Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest for a job opening that I came across on your careers portal for the role of Java Full Stack Developer with Angular/React (Job :#57354).

I have completed my Bachelors in Technology in Computer Science and having 2+ Yrs of Experience in development for a client product. I received training as a Full Stack Engineer on Spring Boot, Microservices, Angular, Oracle DB, and Cloud basics with AWS

I am a quick learner and my hard working nature has helped me be recognized as a critical resource for my existing project. My current roles and responsibilities include :

- Working on client specified features(both new and enhancements to existing ones)
- Documenting the code changes
- Unit Testing and validation
- Debugging issues

I find that the roles and responsibilities stated in the job description aligns with my interest and skills, hence I would like to apply for the same. Please do check out my resume for further details.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Thanks,

K Glin Zachariah
